7. Biography (brief) Has belonged to staff of Vienna Univ. Law School since the early twenties, after having served a few years in the diplomatic service of the Austrian Foreign Office under the Republic of Austria. In the later twenties he was made a full professor. His principal field is International Law. Accepted by the end of 1939 to continue to serve at Vienna University under the present regime, BUT was an enthusiastic adherent of the League of Nations, a scientific protagonist of compulsory international adjudication and of an advanced international organization.

pended with me in Italian without signature and via Yugoslavia. Cf. on the discrimination against him the late Prof. J. W. Gerner's article in "American Journal of International Law", XXXIII, 1; 1939, pp. 116-117. During the same time he begged me to see whether he could get a professorship in the United States, which proved impossible, due to the continuing depression. When he, at the end of 1939, accepted the offer of the new regime to continue at Vienna Univ., it must be borne in mind that he had failed to get a professorship in this country and that he was under strong financial strain, as he had to care not only for his own family and his old mother, but also for the whole family of his brother, sent to and detained in a German concentration camp.

14. Name of book of reference in which further biographical data may be obtained

IV. Estimate and appraisal:

1. Reputation in his occupation ~~Excellent~~ excellent

2. Intellectual integrity and standards of scholarship

3. Character and reliability Outstanding character, most sincere and reliable.

4. Executive or administrative capacity Outstanding organizer in all cultural matters.

5. Leadership, influence, and esteem in the community Greatest esteem and influence in the widest circles of loyal and patriotic Austrians.

V. Additional comments:

As the position of Sicherheitskommissar under Dollfuss and Schuschnigg was almost equivalent to a Gestapo position under Nazis, his behavior under Dollfuss and Schuschnigg was undoubtedly Austro-Fascist.
